

As a flight attendant for a major carrier for twenty years I adamantly oppose the relaxing of cellular telephone useage on board all commercial aircraft. This would serve no public good and create havoc in the cabin, not to mention the obvious safety issues involved.